The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: Page 1, lines 1-4, note that the patent status information for parent application S.N. 419047 should be moved from its present location to a location following the filing date of the present application to avoid potential confusion in that the patent information relates to the provisional application which immediately preceding the patent information. Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claim 1, note that the recitation that the "second layer" has a "dielectric constant less than 30" does not appear to have been explicitly disclosed in the original specification, and thus must be treated as "new matter".

However, if applicants' disagree that the above cited limitation is not "new matter", then an appropriate explanation is required, including pointing out where explicit support for this limitation can be found in the original specification.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, note that it is unclear whether a "waveguide" properly characterized the invention, as recited. Note in particular that the body of claim 1 appears to define "a waveguide positioned adjacent a first edge ..." and "first and second ground planes positioned on opposite sides", which appears to define the coplanar waveguide of Fig. 9. Furthermore, the coplanar waveguide arrangement of Fig. 9 can not be consistent with the "multi-layered stack" which defines the waveguide as depicted in Fig. 10. Clarification is needed.

In claim 1, note that for the "first" & "second" layers, it is unclear how each recitation of "a multi-layered stack" relates to each other (i.e. the same "stack", different "stacks", etc). Similarly, it is unclear how each recitation of "a dielectric constant" relates to each other (i.e. same, different, etc). For each instance noted above should the second occurrence of the limitation be --the-- instead of "a"? Furthermore, note that it is unclear whether "at least one of said first and second electrodes" can be properly characterized as being "positioned between the first and second layers" (i.e. is it proper to have both the first and second electrodes disposed between the first and second layers?). Clarification is needed.

The following claims have been found objectionable for reasons set forth below:

In claim 3, note that the non-positive recitation "can" should be deleted as being unnecessary.

In claims 5, 7, note that the numerical symbols in each chemical composition should be placed in a subscripted format.

In claim 6, note that --of dielectric material-- should follow "first and second layers" for a proper characterization.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CAR 1.321© may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CAR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CAR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-⁷~~5~~ are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-3, 5, 6, 9 of co-pending Application No. 68512. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because aside from the specific apparatus recited in the preamble of the claims of each application, the remaining structural and functional limitations are otherwise identical.

Art Unit: 2817

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

It should be noted that the terminal disclaimer filed 20 February 2003 has been accepted. In that terminal disclaimer, applicants' appear to have voluntarily disclaimed this over the parent U. S. Patent No. 6377142. While such is disclaimer is proper, it has no affect on the above obviousness double patenting rejection with respect to co-pending application Serial No. 68512, and thus that is why the double patenting rejection is sustained. Note that to overcome the above obviousness double patenting rejection, applicants' must explicitly terminally disclaim over the co-pending application.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CAR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
